Applicant's election with traverse of species 1, Figs. 1a and 1b, claims 1, 4, 5 in the reply filed on 2/17/05 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that all species are sufficiently related such that a search for one would encompass a search for all. This is not found persuasive because the above allegation shows that applicant has not analyzed the examiner's action in the context of the established practice for requiring an election of species as established in Chapter 800 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure. It is well established practice that a requirement to elect a single species is a holding by the examiner that the plural species as claimed are patentably distinct (capable of supporting separate patents). See MPEP Section 808.01(a). If applicant is of a different view, applicant need merely state on the record that the species are not patentably distinct, as was clearly stated in the restriction requirement. Neither the examiner nor the applicant needs to present any reasoning. The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claims 2, 3, and 6-28 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 2/17/05. It should be noted that claims 2, 3, and 6 do not read on the elected species as asserted by applicant.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Art Unit: 3654

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Said subject matter is " the outer diameter ... spool" (lines 1-3).

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

For clarity and/or definiteness, it appears that –axially—should be inserted after "are" (claim 4).

Claim 5 does not further limit the claimed invention since a combination of reel and film is not being claimed and it is not clear what level of stress the claim is referring to.

All claims should be revised carefully to correct all other deficiencies similar to the ones noted above. The non-elected claims should also be similarly corrected at the same time so that the application can be allowed without delay should the generic claims become allowable.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4, 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Curtis (US-255147). Note flanges C and guide grooves E. It should be noted that only a reel member is being claimed and the film is deemed to be an intended use. It should be noted that if the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. Claim 5 is deemed inherent if film were to be wound on the apparatus since a certain level of stress would therefore be inherent.

Claims 1, 4, 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hotine (US-2351428). Claim 5 is deemed inherent since a certain level of stress is inherent in the wound film.
